Dear Costas,

I was immensely happy to be in Athens last week.

Thanks to your excellent organisation, the generosity of your sponsors and the dynamism of your team, I think we could say that the meeting was a great success!

For me personally, the visit of one of your homes was very important. It brings me to think further than what we do for the moment but also to discover that the way you have really focused on the child is the only manner to avoid that, with the time, we become a bureaucratic organisation.

Thank you for that lesson and thank you for your frindship.

Yours sincerely,

Daniel
